Help Shape Nonpartisan Standards for Election Excellence in Poll Worker Programs

Happy November! It's that time of the year when the entire country is thinking about the holiday season...and elections, of course!

At the U.S. Alliance for Election Excellence, election officials and other experts have been thinking a lot about defining, supporting, and celebrating excellence in elections. And in case you missed it in October, the Alliance released the first set of nonpartisan, voluntary standards for a public comment period.

The topic of the first batch of standards is poll workers. Why poll workers? Because of their rubber-meets-the-road role in election administration, poll workers directly affect the voting experience for millions of Americans. This means that when local election departments have the right resources to run successful poll worker programs, voters and our democracy benefit.

The deadline to submit your feedback is Tuesday, December 5th and we'd love to get your expert input! Your feedback is valued and will help shape the final standards for the field of election administration and maintain our healthy democracy for years to come.

Share your ideas on poll worker standards

Plan to spend at least 15 minutes to complete the form depending on how many standards you want to give feedback on. Feedback is due December 5th. Again, your feedback will help shape the final poll worker standards and we're grateful this season for your contribution!

In addition to the poll worker standards, the Alliance also published examples of nonpartisan, generic resources that include best practices, free and low-cost tools, guides, templates, and more.

When running excellent elections, your office doesn't need to go it alone. The Alliance builds and curates resources to help you achieve high standards. Take the best of what your peers are doing across the country and see what works in your area. And, offer ideas and suggestions from your office.

All resources are free or low-cost and geared specifically to election offices.

The publication of these standards and resources are paving the way in the Alliance roadmap for supporting election officials through the 2024 General Election and beyond. In the upcoming months, we'll be sharing more sets of voluntary, nonpartisan standards and resources for local election departments. The next topic is communications - get excited!
